

They're their there theirs there's

They're is a contraction for "they are." Their is a possessive such as "their coats."

There means the place—"over there." Theirs is a possessive such as "It's theirs."

There's is a contraction for "there is." Fill in each blank with one of the words.

1. _____ Great Dane is taller and heavier than your Sicilian donkey.
2. If that isn't your car, is it _____?
3. _____ a lot of value in vocational education.
4. You're mistaken; I have never been _____.
5. Remind Carol and Tom to buy _____ own hamburger for the picnic.
6. Did your friends bring _____ pickles?
7. _____ the ones to watch.
8. People talk even when it is none of _____ business.
9. Even if _____ smart, I don't like _____ attitude when they talk as if the school was _____.
10. _____ something to be said for living alone, where all men are _____ own bosses, even if _____ lonely sometimes.